

TIME OF OFFICERS IS WELL OCCUPIED

Infantry Commanders at It From Daylight Until Late at Night.

TWO LONG WALKS EVERY DAY

Program for Sunday—Complete Roster of Officers in Camp.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Camp William Hodges Mann, Petersburg, Va., May 28.—Nobody here has any time to be homesick or any other kind of sick. We arise to reveille at 5:30 every morning, and are kept hard at it by the unrelenting officers of the regular army until 9:30 at night, when every weary Virginian is glad indeed to be able to roll into his blankets and seek respite and Nephenthe.

Besides what looks to us like constant lectures, we go twice every day for a walk of four or five miles or so just for a bracer. This is merely gentle exercise. If any of the boys who couldn't get off think we are living off the fat of the earth with nothing to do, let him try it for twenty-four hours. But it is for the best and we realize it more every hour.

The only woman in camp is Mrs. F. H. Hutton, wife of Captain Hutton of the regular army. She has quarters at the Country Club.

Want to Share It.
The rest of the First Regiment officers came over to-day and we will see to it that they get their share up to the time they depart Monday morning. All the officers of the First Battalion will take a day off to command their troops in the Hollywood parade, under solemn promise to be with us again by Monday night.

Sunday being of course a day of rest, we will all indulge in the following light amusements, under the watchful eyes of the army men:

7:30—Tactical walk: outposts, patrolling, orders, messages and sketches.
11—Instruction in military department of officers on duty.

1:30—Practical talk. First, camping, selection of site, designation of places to obtain drinking water, water antiseptics, bath, wash clothes, temporary rear, adapting the form of camp to the ground, drainage, direction of prevailing winds, location, construction and care of permanent rear, disposal of kitchen slops and refuse, flies, danger from breeding places, disposal of horse manure. Second, first aid.

5—Inspection under arms, followed

FAMOUS DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION.

PE-RU-NA FOR DYSPEPSIA CATARRH OF STOMACH

by a short talk on marching shoes, socks, care of the feet and carriage of equipment.

8—Conference.

8:30—Practical talk: Infantry in defense.

HITCHCOCK'S HAND SEEN EVERYWHERE

First speeches he made after it became generally known that he was to be a candidate for the presidency, that the system of swapping offices for delegates should be broken up.

Representatives do not like the treatment they receive at the Post-Office Department. It is claimed by some that it requires hours to get in to the Hitchcock privacy. Senators, on the other hand, have no trouble going through the formalities. National committeemen and chairmen, or whoever happens to be acting as referees, also get the glad hand. In other words, General Hitchcock knows on which side his bread is buttered. Senators confirm nominations, and referees deliver his delegates, while the ordinary member of the House cuts but little ice anywhere for Hitchcock. A Southern Republican Representative was three hours getting to the Postmaster-General one day not long ago.

The trail of the Postmaster-General is seen everywhere. Not long ago a Republican Congressman, who had incurred his ill will, learned that the secretary of one of the departments here had been advised against making a certain promotion for the simple reason that it had been requested by him.

Hitchcock, who was not even supposed to know anything about the matter, was doing what he could to thwart the man he did not like.

Air Full of Stories.

The air is full of such stories. A number of the metropolitan papers have roasted Mr. Hitchcock. Harper's Weekly recently said: "Hitchcock has done what he could to perpetuate the Federal pie-counter as the controlling factor in Southern Republican politics."

Nobody here knows the exact views of Mr. Hitchcock. He is not a talkative man.

But, after all is said, he is very interesting and very clever. He is not liked by the other members of the Cabinet, for the reason, it is stated, that he meddles with their appointments.

These are some of the ways of summing up the man. He has as many sides as there are theories about Halloway's comet. Now you see him, now you don't. You think you have him; you discover that you haven't. He is the most mysterious man in Washington. He and Theodore Roosevelt are at the opposite ends of the poles. The one talks all the time, while the other can be silent in many languages.

TELEPHONE TRUST FACING TROUBLE

stock was $25,000,000 common and $25,000,000 preferred.

The American Union Telephone Company, controlled by the Continental, was incorporated May 31, 1906. It was a merger of New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia companies. In 1907 it obtained control of the Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company and in 1908 of the Consolidated Telephone Companies of Pennsylvania. John A. Howard likewise is president of this corporation, which has a capitalization of $15,000,000 common and $10,000,000 preferred stock, operates 3,000 telephones and has 52,214 miles of wire.

Bill of Complaint.

Trenton, N. J., May 28.—The order issued in the suit of Max Koehler and others against the Continental Telephone and Telegraph Company by Judge Rollstab, directing the company to show cause why an injunction should not issue against it and a receiver be appointed, restrains the company or its officers or agents from expending or paying with any of its property, assets or securities, pending the hearing.

The bill of complaint avers that the Continental secured all the capital stock of the National Company, amounting to $10,000,000, from the Consolidated Company. The Consolidated undertook also to pay the Continental $2,000,000 in cash, for which the Continental issued various securities.

To raise cash, the Continental Company turned over $2,500,000 worth of bonds, delivered in part payment of stock of the National Company, to Koehler, the complainant, and Howard, who handed them over to underwriters. The sum of $161,748 in cash was realized, which eventually reached the treasury of the Continental Company.

It is charged that the Consolidated Company was merely a dummy corporation.

Will Leave Service.

Lieutenant Gilmer Honorably Discharged from Philippine Scouts.

Washington, May 28.—Lieutenant David J. Gilmer, of the Philippine Scouts, has been honorably discharged from service, owing to physical disability. On November 26 last Lieutenant Gilmer was tried by court-martial on the charge of false statements concerning his commanding officer. He was found guilty in three charges and sentenced to dismissal, which sentence the President commuted to a reduction of fifteen files in lineal rank. He was unable to qualify in the physical examination for grade of captain and will leave the service May 29.

RAILROADS ALARMED

Attorneys Will Ask Court to Reconsider Its Decision.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—Alarmed over the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Jarrett case, general attorneys of a score of big railroads probably will ask the court Tuesday to reconsider its conclusion in the physical examination of said railroad. No. 1015 Main Street, Richmond, Va., on Tuesday, THE 28TH DAY OF JUNE, 1910, at 12 o'clock M., to consider a proposition and plan for the consolidation of the Bank of Richmond with said National Bank of Virginia, as approved by the board of directors of said National Bank of Virginia, to consider certain proposed amendments of the articles of association of said bank.

(1) To increase the capital stock of the said bank to $1,200,000.

(2) To provide for two vice-presidents and an increase of the number of directors, if an increase shall then be deemed desirable.

(3) To consider the declaration of a dividend to the stockholders out of the present surplus of the bank, and for the transaction of the foregoing business, germane to the foregoing matters, or which may be deemed to the best interests of the bank, which may be brought on for consideration of said meeting.

A full meeting of the stockholders, either in person or by proxy, is urgently requested.

Have You An Employee Who Drinks?

A brilliant man perhaps who was once your most trusted employee? Maybe he is still all right—as brilliant as ever—when he is sober. But you can't keep him in the same responsible position because you never can trust him any more. And so you have to cut his wages and finally when all patience is exhausted and all hope seems gone—you have to discharge him and set him adrift.

Yet in spite of everything you hate to do it. You hate to see a good man go like that—for you have spent so many years in training him and good men are so hard to get. You know you can't train up another man as good in four months or even in four years. But did you know that in from four to six weeks you could bring your trusted employee back to his old self? A credit to himself—a joy to his family—and a money-making investment to you?

Too good to be true you say! Not a bit of it. We have cured 6500 patients here at the Greensboro Keeley Institute the past eighteen years since I've been president of it and the great majority of them are happy and prosperous men today. We can do just as much for your old employee. For his sake, for his family's sake, for your own sake, write today for our descriptive booklet.
